Your instructors, David Griffiths and James Mills and, are both Advanced Professional Game Angling Instructors and accredited members of the Hardy Greys Academy of Instructors.

David has fished for all game fish since he was a very young boy, catching his first trout on the River Wye at Built Wells (on the fly!) aged 5. He has a wealth of fly fishing experience in all parts of the world. He was fortunate enough to be taught to nymph fish by the legendary Frank Sawyer on the River Avon. Having had a full and successful Army career, he was head hunted by Sharpes’ of Aberdeen as a sales manager and their principle casting demonstrator. This encouraged him to undertake the professional fly casting examinations. Notably, David has given casting demonstrations at various national and international fly fishing fairs in the UK, USA, Europe and in Japan.

James is also ex Army and an APGAI and STANIC qualified fly fishing instructor. He acquired a wealth of international experience as an instructor before establishing The Total Fly Fishing Company with David. He is a consummate caster in both salmon and trout fields cutting away all of the spurious mystique surrounding fly fishing, casting in particular. He is intent upon making the learning process enjoyable and fun - he measures success by hooking people to fly fishing for life.
